EXPERIENCE

Founding Product Designer, AplyNow AI job search platform · Remote

Oct 2025 – Present

- First designer on the product: mapped the job-search journey and designed user-focused flows for job discovery, recruiter outreach, application organisation and career support.
- Built the design system from scratch: responsive layouts, reusable UI components, type and colour scales, states and interaction patterns applied consistently across web and mobile.
- Ran usability rounds with early users, then reworked onboarding and the outreach flow off that feedback, cutting the steps to a first sent application.
- Collaborated daily with the founder and developers, translating product requirements into usable, consistent interfaces.

- Developed and refined interface designs in HTML, CSS and JavaScript, connecting visual design concepts with front-end implementation.
- Created brand assets, marketing materials, typography treatments and visual systems, keeping consistency across digital touchpoints.
- Built reusable design components, style guides and documentation, collaborating with cross-functional and remote teams to review concepts and refine solutions.
- Used AI-assisted workflows for ideation and production efficiency, managing multiple projects from concept to delivery.
